

Single Equality Policy

1. We aim to encourage life-long learners who value their education, who are confident and ambitious for their own futures, while respecting the rights of others.
2. This Single Equality Scheme is intended to respond to the spirit as well as the letter of the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000, the Disability Discrimination Act 2005, the Gender Equality Act 2006 and the Education and Inspections Act 2006 to promote community cohesion. It also aims to promote all other forms and strands of equality that are relevant to life in schools. This goes beyond the school's statutory duties to promote race, gender, disability equality and community cohesion and extends to the legislation protecting against discrimination on the grounds of age, sexuality and religion or belief. Race, gender, disability, sexuality, age and religion/belief are known as the six equality strands.
3. The Scheme aims to integrate equality into the school's core priorities and functions; it is part of who we are as a school.
4. This Single Equality Scheme will enable us to:
  - a. Demonstrate how promoting equality and eliminating discrimination can help raise standards;
  - b. Ensure that equality and diversity are part of the school's core ethos both as a school and as an employer;
  - c. Ensure that our priorities for raising standards support our equality objectives;
  - d. Ensure that our equality objectives complement the Every Child Matters outcomes for children.
5. What do we mean by Equality and Diversity? Equality refers to outcomes, making sure that all social groups benefit equally from our activities. Diversity recognises that we can only achieve equality by taking into account the different needs of communities. Equality is impossible to achieve without recognising diversity.
6. What is discrimination? Discrimination is a type of negative treatment that affects a whole group of people, or an individual because they belong to a group.
7. Direct discrimination is when a person is treated less favourably than others because of their (real or perceived) ethnicity, disability, age, sexuality, religion/belief or gender whether teachers, pupils, parents / carers or visitors.
8. Indirect discrimination is when there are rules or procedures that have the effect of discriminating against certain groups of people. Yorston Lodge is an inclusive school in its essence and all activities conducted at or by the school are included in this policy.
9. Anyone who feels that they have been affected adversely by any discrimination described in this policy should use the usual methods of informing the school. If a student is affected by it then the first point of contact is the class teacher. Anyone else should make representation to the headmistress or a representative of Montague Place.

Race Equality Policy

1. We take seriously our legal requirements and duties under the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000.
2. The General Duty for race equality requires us to:
  - a. eliminate unlawful racial discrimination;
  - b. promote equal opportunities;
  - c. and promote good relations between people of different racial groups.
3. To ensure that we fulfil our specific duty for race equality requires us to publish a Race Equality Scheme that highlights how the school will:
  - a. prepare a written statement of the school's policy for promoting race equality, and act upon it;
  - b. assess the impact of school policies and procedures on pupils, staff, parents and the wider community, including, in particular, the impact of attainment levels of these pupils;
  - c. monitor, assess and review the attainment level of black and minority ethnic pupils and act accordingly;
  - d. and make information available and accessible to all groups;
4. We are committed to record any racial incidents and report them to the Local Authority. Also, we will respond appropriately to any racial incidents that happen in school (please see our Behaviour and Anti- Bullying Policies)

Disability Equality Policy

1. We take seriously our duties under the Disability Discrimination Act 2005.
2. The General Duty for disability equality requires us to:
  - a. promote equality of opportunity for disabled pupils, staff, parents/carers and other school users
  - b. eliminate unlawful discrimination
  - c. eliminate harassment of disabled people
  - d. promote positive attitudes to disabled people
  - e. and take into account a disabled person's disability even if it means treating the disabled person more favourably
3. To ensure that we fulfil our specific duty we will publish a Disability Equality Scheme which:
  - a. includes a three year action plan
  - b. involves disabled pupils and other disabled people
  - c. and carries out Equality Impact Assessments of policies and procedures to make sure that disabled people are not being treated unfairly

Social and medical models of disability

1. One of our key goals is to challenge the view that the inequality faced by disabled people is down to their medical 'problems'. The medical model has fed negative stereotypes held by non-disabled people such as:
  - a. focusing only on what a person cannot do;
  - b. making assumptions about what is best for the disabled person;
  - c. thinking that disabled people lack intelligence;
  - d. feeling embarrassed among disabled people;
  - e. and bullying and harassing disabled people.
2. Disability is any condition that affects a person in their day to day life. This can happen suddenly, for example as a result of an accident, or gradually as a result of a condition such as arthritis.
3. In the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) this is called an impairment. The DDA now recognises around 400 impairments including:
  - a. mobility impairments (requiring aids such as sticks or wheelchairs to move about);
  - b. sensory impairments (hearing or sight loss);
  - c. mental ill health (including depression, stress, Alzheimer's disease and schizophrenia);
  - d. cognitive developmental impairments (including learning disabilities, dyslexia, and autism);
  - e. muscular impairments (including spinal injuries); asthma; cancer; HIV/AIDS ; phobias; arthritis; and acquired brain injuries.

Reasonable adjustments

1. The school is required to improve access to the curriculum, our buildings and our other services to disabled people. This also means that we need to take a proactive stance and anticipate what we may need in the future for disabled users.
2. Our school welcomes a diverse workforce and we wish for an ethos where potential and existing staff feel able to disclose any impairment that they have. This is not just for data collection purposes, but in order for the school to make any reasonable adjustments for this member of staff. All disclosures will be treated sensitively and confidentially.
3. Not all pupils who are defined as disabled will have special educational needs. For example, those with severe asthma or diabetes may not have SEN but may have rights under the DDA. Similarly, not all children with SEN will be defined as having a disability.

Gender Equality Policy

1. We take seriously our duties under the Equalities Act 2006 relating to gender equality.
2. Under our general duty for gender equality we aim to:
  - a. eliminate unlawful discrimination and harassment;
  - b. promote equality of opportunity between men and women.

3. We aim to take action which includes:
  - a. steps to address the causes of any gender pay gap;
  - b. collect and use information on gender equality in the school;
  - c. and identify priority areas for gender equality.
4. The Gender Equality Duty promotes equality for men, women and transgendered people. Gender refers to the social construction of female and male identity, rather than biological differences between men and women. It includes the ways in which those differences, whether real or perceived, have been valued and used to classify women and men and to assign roles and expectations to them. Gender identity is not always fixed and the Gender Equality Duty urges us to have due regard to the needs of transgender people.

Sexuality Equality Policy

1. Unlike race, disability and gender there are no general and specific duties for schools to eliminate discrimination against lesbian, gay or bi-sexual people. However, schools have a legal duty to ensure homophobic bullying is dealt with in schools under the Education and Inspections Act 2006.
2. The Employment Equality (Sexual Orientation) Regulations (2003), gave all gay, lesbian and bisexual employees rights against discrimination. The Sexual Orientation Regulations (2007) extend these rights to goods and services. This means that we have a legal duty to ensure that people of all sexualities are not discriminated when they work for us or use our services.
3. We are committed to ensuring that everyone should have equal access to all the services provided by Yorston and that no-one within our school community experiences discrimination due to their sexual orientation.

Age Equality Policy

1. Unlike race, disability and gender there are no general and specific duties for schools to eliminate age related discrimination.
2. The Employment Equality (Age) Regulations (2006), gave people of all age groups rights against discrimination at work, including vocational training. The regulations cover:
  - a. mandatory retirement;
  - b. discrimination in recruitment, retention and training;
  - c. dismissal and redundancy;
  - d. statutory sick pay and maternity
  - e. and harassment in the workplace.
3. We are committed to ensuring that everyone should have equal access to all the services provided by Yorston and that no-one within our school community experiences age discrimination.

Religion/Belief Equality Policy

1. Unlike race, disability and gender there is are no general and specific duties for schools to eliminate discrimination on the grounds of a person's religion or deeply held beliefs. However, The Employment Equality (Religious Belief) Regulations (2003), gave people of all religious faiths rights against discrimination in the workplace. This does not include people's political beliefs, but does include agnostics or atheists.
2. We are committed to ensuring that everyone should have equal access to all the services provided by Yorston and that no-one within our school community experiences age discrimination due to their religion or belief.

Community Cohesion Policy

1. The Education and Inspections Act 2006 introduced a new duty for schools to promote community cohesion. We believe that Yorston is a cohesive community. Our school is one in which:
  - a. there is a common vision and sense of belonging for all communities;
  - b. the diversity of backgrounds and circumstances are appreciated and valued;
  - c. similar life opportunities are available to all;
  - d. strong and positive relationships exist and continue to be developed in our inclusive community.
